HELPING HANDS

God, touch my hands with tenderness,
For many folk today
Have never known Thy gentleness
And kindness; so I pray
Oh, teach my fingers carefulness;
Make their touch warm and true,
And as I'm waiting on the sick,
Lord, keep me serving you.

Caducean

In Dedication. . . . . .

Miss Barbara C. Mertes, R.N., B.S., M.A.

Throughout the past three years we have seen the school grow and develop through your efforts. You have been a source of guidance and inspiration to each of us. Always willing to lend a helping hand, you have given us friendship in time of need, encouragement in time of doubt, and guidance in time of bewilderment.

Because you have helped our class endeavor to become sincere professional nurses with high ideals and aims to meet the needs of mankind, we, the Class of 1962, proudly and with deep respect dedicate this year's edition of the Caducean to you, Miss Barbara C. Mertes.

In Appreciation . . . . . .

Miss Phyllis Davis, R.N.

We, the Class of 1962, wish to express our deep appreciation to you, Miss Phyllis Davis, for your untiring efforts on our behalf. Your technical skills, teaching ability, and applied psychology all helped to challenge us to give the kind of total patient care you have exemplified.

Hospital & Administration

Administration

During the past three years our world has changed greatly. Many independent nations have evolved in Africa. The free world and the communist world are more sharply aligned as armed camps. World political tensions have increased. In the area of science, man has personally explored outer space beyond our atmosphere.

Never before, has democratic government demanded more of each citizen. As young adults, emerging in this changing world, you must have faith, courage, wisdom, a keen sense of justice, morality and loyalty if our way of life is to continue.

It is our sincere opinion that you represent the finest of a new generation. May you always add dignity and honor to your personal reputation, your profession and your School of Nursing. Our good wishes and prayers will be with you always.

In Memoriam

DR. J. S. WILLIAMS

Nearly 50 years of medical practice came to an end for one of Massillon's most respected physicians on May 26, 1962.

Dr. Williams has earned the respect and admiration of many since he began his career in 1915 and had only recently retired from active practice. He began his practice in Massillon in 1915 and except for a short term in the medical corps of the United States Army he spent 47 years serving Massillon area residents. The community will long feel the loss of this dedicated man.

The Doctor

I don't see why Pa likes him so,
    And seems so glad to have him come;
He jabs my ribs and wants to know
    If here and there it's hurting some.
He holds my wrist, coz there are things
    In there, which always jump and jerk,
Then, with a telephone he brings,
    He listens to my breather work.

He taps my back and pinches me,
    Then hangs a mirror on his head
And looks into my throat to see
    What makes it hurt and if it's red.
Then on his knee he starts to write
    And says to mother, with a smile:
"This ought to fix him up all right,
    We'll cure him in a little while."

I don't see why Pa likes him so.
    Whenever I don't want to play
He says: "The boy is sick, I know!
    Let's get the doctor right away."
And when he comes, he shakes his hand,
    And hustles him upstairs to me,
And seems contented just to stand
    Inside the room where he can see.

Then Pa says every time he goes:
    "That's money I am glad to pay;
It's worth it, when a fellow knows
    His pal will soon be up to play."
But maybe if my Pa were me,
    And had to take his pills and all,
He wouldn't be so glad to see
    The doctor come to make a call.

Nursing Service

Even though your basic nursing education is about to end, your goal in nursing is only one step closer. The knowledge and wisdom that you have gained will assist you to climb another step each day as you practice your profession. The stairs may be high, the climb may be difficult, but the rewards that you receive at each step will be your strength to continue along the way.

The Nursing Service Department proudly congratulates the Class of 1962 and extends to them sincere wishes for a happy and rewarding life.

Director, School of Nursing

Miss Barbara C. Mertes, R.N., B.S., M.A.

The Faculty of the School of Nursing joins with me in congratulating each member of the Class of 1962 and in wishing you success and great satisfaction in your chosen profession in the years to come.

A sincere desire to offer real service to others, a deep understanding of human nature, and a willingness to forego self-interest are all necessary attributes for success in nursing. Each of you have demonstrated these qualities which I believe you will always continue to nuture. During the past three years you have been given an opportunity to develop a priceless knowledge and skill which can be so imortant to countless persons. It is the successful nurse who can use the correct combination of these ingredients in meeting the many complex, ever-changing nursing needs of society. Today, on the threshold of your professional nursing practice, you stand in an exciting position facing many challenges, unmet needs and unanswered questions. It is the hope and prayer of the faculty and me that your aim of service and your fine spirit and loyalty will give you direction and inspiration as you meet each new challenge which lies before you.

Librarian

All students in need of help in the library find Mrs. Kracker, our librarian, an extremely helpful person. We appreciate the systematic arrangement of material and the assistance she gives us when we are in need of it.

Faculty

Through your patience, understanding, knowledge, and willingness to assist us in all our problems, you have opened the doors of knowledge and opportunity to us. May we all walk worthily through these doors and, in turn, open the door to others who must follow us.

Freshman Class

On September 10, 1961, thirty-seven frightened freshmen entered the doors of Howenstine Home to begin their nursing careers. The next few days were spent in orientation of the School of Nursing and Akron University. After nine months of study, exams, floor work, and many sleepless nights, we reached the first milestone. On June 8, 1962, thirty-one proud freshmen received the privilege of wearing the cap or chevron of the school. Our main project was a semi-formal dance held in the Starlight Ballroom at Amherst Shopping Center.

Throughout our nine months attending Akron University the greatest part of each student's time is spent in this modern building as it has the bookstore, chuckery, cafeteria, and lounge located within.

Zelda, Sandy and Norma study the heart.

"Casey", Barb and Jean spend an evening at home with the bones.

Lois, "Bobbie" and Chris observe as Ray gives Mary her morning care.

The paper work involved is amazing as was discovered by Sandy, Skip, Kathy and Nancy.

Anne Mae, Mary, Lynn and Larry appear relaxed on their first ward assignment — Passing water!

Mary Ann, Cheryl, "Boots" and Mary prepare to give their first enema —but not their last.

Jane, Marcia, Beth, and Wanda learn it takes muscles to tighten a sheet!!

Sally, Becky, and Mary find Stanley a cooperative patient.

Beth, Sharon, and Dixie give supportive nursing care to Mrs. Chase.

Junior Class

This year's Junior class started it's activities by welcoming and initiating the new freshmen in September. Christmas time found found us busy as beavers making and selling peanut brittle. Of all our projects, the bake sales and our Stanley party were the most rewarding to us.

We were brave through our Medical-Surgical Nursing classes and though we thought we had seen the last of MCH when taking those exams, we somehow pulled through.

In March 1962, our class separated and we were no longer one. Our new experiences took us to Akron Children's Hospital, Massillon State Hospital and specialties at our own MCH.

As the seniors look forward to graduation, we the juniors look forward to attaining that black band on our white caps and the distinction of being seniors. The second milestone is about to be reached and the final one still lies ahead to be gained.

Senior Class

September 16, 1959 was a big day for thirty eight freshmen as we entered Howenstine Home, where we were to spend the next three years. We attended Akron University for nine months and on June 17, 1959 we received our "caps".

We became Juniors in September of 1959. We then separated to begin specialities at Akron Children's and Massillon State Hospital. The others went to surgery and obstetrical nursing. On September 6, 1960 we became the proud bearers of the "black band" which made us officially seniors.

This last year has been busy and full of many memories. Then our big day, September 16, 1962 – GRADUATION. Many of us will scatter to all parts reaching for higher goals but always looking back to Massillon City Hospital where we began our nursing profession.

Sandra Eva Anderson

"Variety is the spice of life." Where there's Andy there's never a dull moment. She spends most of her spare time organizing gab sessions and making certain everyone is happy. Her chief ambition: To "get the most out of life."

Sandra Susan Burmich

When the cackling laugh echoes down the hall everyone says "Sandy's back." Has a bubbling, bursting appetite and a personality to match. Loves movies and good food, especially pizza. The champion goldfisherman of our class. Chief ambition: To marry the "second twin".

Patricia Mae Bushman

Became Mrs. without losing any time. Always has an answer for everything. Has a great art for not being able to find her belongings. Likes apartments, a brown and yellow Ford, married life, and Supp-hose. Chief ambition: To be a good nurse, wife, and mother.

Janice Marie Davis

Friend to many with a smile to everyone. Often heard saying, "I feel silly". Intensely serious at times, but then at other times . . .?! Chief ambition: To further her education.

Roxanna Dew

"To live is to love and to love is to live." Liked by everyone, Roxie can always be depended upon to add laughter to any situation. Likes to twist, eat and spend money. Always on the go; her chief ambition: To get to Kentucky.

Linda Sue Esselburn

Known for her consideration and time to talk to all — a lot of fun, a water and boat lover, and a possessor of a sharp Chevey which has gears that occasionally lock; how would you like to go eight miles an hour home? Chief ambition: Never to smash another phalange.

Susan Jane Fogel

Lucky girl has two boyfriends – Gary and Scott. Likes food, cosmetics, cigarettes, and the nursery. Known for her ability to stay thin and stimulate a card party. Chief ambition: To have a new house and car.

Cheryl Kaye Geiser

Slow and deliberate but still gets things done while other's are still thinking about them. Never known to hand in less than eight pages of homework or write less than four letters a night. Chief ambition: To own a Hi-Fi better than Phyllis!

Roselyn Joyce Good

Recognized anywhere by her big smile and friendly greeting. A swell roommate, except when she's asleep. Likes to get up in the morning because then she only has eight hours till she can go back to bed. Favorite hobby is licking stamps for those letters to St. Louis. Chief goal: To become Mrs. to a certain young minister.

Sandra Jean Hartong

A girl whose lively sense of humor can brighten any situation and whose good judgment can always be depended upon. She usually can be found somewhere sewing or making something for someone. A true friend and enjoyable classmate. Chief ambition: Akron Children's Hospital.

Martha Ann Hegnauer

Always willing to lend a helping hand to anyone at anytime. Enjoys the cultural things in life and is well known for her artistic abilities. Can often be heard playing her ukelele and singing. Likes fellowship meetings and psychiatric nursing. Chief ambition: To get a degree from Western Reserve.

Nancy Ellen Herman

Known for frequent naps during class. You have to get some fun out of life is Nancy's philosophy. Likes to sew and do the twist. Has an easy going manner that makes her a friend to all. Chief ambition: To be a private duty nurse.

Vivian Rae Hoff

Known for frequent mention of a certain guy named Dick — and how wonderful it is to be engaged. Is as neat as a pin and so is her room when she is in a hurry to be only fifteen minutes late. Has a mind of her own with a lot of up and go — if it's not too early in the morning. Chief ambition: To learn how to cook, work at Children's and be Mrs. D. R. Getz.

Constance Elaine Huff

"Little, but mighty." Never comes in a minute before twelve midnight. Has never experienced a depressed moment in her life. A wonderful listener to any problems but not for the alarm clock. Always willing to help anyone at anytime. Enjoys sewing — only girl in the class that owns an original Singer. Chief ambition: To move Georgia Tech to Massillon.

Elma Nadine Lenhart

Though in her way she is friendly and quiet, you can always tell Elma is around by a flash of light. When you feel down and out and blue, you can count on her for a joke or two. Chief ambition: To be another Mrs. Smith.

Linda Kay Moyer

Known for listening to everyone's troubles, being neat, and organized. Favorite occupation is nursing, second is sleeping, and third is writing letters for someone in Army green. Chief ambition: To raise a bunch of little Whitacres.

Ethel Mae Mumaw

Known for her happy sounding laugh and blue chevey. (How many times has it stalled for you, Ethel?) Consideration and kindness to others are only two of her fine characteristics. Chief ambition: To be a missionary nurse.

Donna Jean Myers

A friendly spirit, a thoughtful act, and a burst of humor — this is Donna. She likes people, pop, and pediatrics. Her guitar and frequent jaunts are special pleasures. Chief ambition: Rocking-chair therapy.

Nannette Avi Nussbaum

Although she spends long hours of study on her own lessons, she is always more than willing to stop and help a fellow classmate. Has a special talent for telling those crazy mixed-up jokes. Likes team nursing, Republic Division, playing tennis, the twist, and typing. Chief ambition: University Hospital, Columbus.

Joyce Ellen Philabaum

It is not every girl in the class who gets to go on an expense-paid trip to Miami Beach, Florida. No matter how small your problem or complaint may be, Joyce always understands. Chief ambition: To marry the "first twin".

Rochelle Anne Price

The newest member of our class. Mother times two and a good friend. Always willing to help in any way she can. Usually found making something for Celeste and Craig. Chief ambition: To raise a large family.

Marcia Ann Waefler

The only girl in the class that can eat constantly and yet stay slim. Known for her neat appearance and friendly personality for all. Marcia, we're wondering where that blue garter came from . . . . couldn't have been from R—— Chief ambition: A one way ticket to Texas.

Suzanne Marie Warren

The only girl in the Senior Class who can wake up the neighbors on any occasion and still keep their friendship. She is known for her frequent naps — trips out of town — rotating boyfriends. Chief ambition: To fly.

Maxine Joan Weikel

Interested in the finer things of life and culture. Maxine wouldn't be herself if she didn't ask questions. Needs an inventor for regeneration of her crushed ear plug. Chief ambition: To be the positive ion in the marriage with a certain nuclear physicist.

Wilma Jean Whiteley

Quiet and naive, but still——! "Willy" is the only girl whose boyfriend can swim in his Tiki swimming suit without any water. Likes to eat and talk. Chief ambition: To be a Public Health Nurse.

Rosalynd Augusta Yacapraro

The only girl in the class who can take charm course and still retain her natural gait. Possesses an everlasting winning and friendly smile. "Yoc" always has a saying to fit every situation. Chief ambition: To do the hula under the palms in Hawaii.

Margery Joan Zimmer

Twice our class president and without her S.C.S.N.A. would have lacked a very vital part of the meeting – food! Sweet, delightful, and true; a wonderful girl through and through who likes convertibles, swimming, and ice cream, especially at Mary's. Chief ambition: Ohio State.

THE SENIOR CLASS

Did you say it was time for team conference? Today Ethel is team leader while Joyce, Connie and Sue fulfill their roles as team members.

You can be sure with Vivian, Wilma, "Marge" and Nannette at hand there will be some "spoiled" babies in the nursery.

Cheryl, "Moe" and Roxie wonder about their home-made formulas.

With "Yoc" the victim,

Marcia and Rosie

look for a good vein.

Pat, Sue, and "Rocky" are ready to face the long night ahead.

Janice and Maxine seemed pleased that for once their mailbox isn't empty.

Sandy, "Essie" "Hartong" and "Andy" make quite a team for our emergency patient.

Elma, Nancy and Donna observe carefully the needs of a new mother following delivery.

Miss Caducean

Margery Zimmer

The title of "Miss Caducean" is awarded to the senior student who best exemplifies the personality, characteristics, and capabilities of the Ideal Student Nurse.

Because of your sincere interest in the care and welfare of your patients, your generosity and diligence along with your sparkling personality, the Class of 1962 is proud to bestow the honor of "Miss Caducean" to Miss Margery Zimmer.

Runners-Up

Joyce Philabaum

For exemplifying such high standards of achievement and service to your class and to your profession may you also share
the honors with
"Miss Caducean".

Roselyn Good

Patty and "Moe" wrap some pretty packages.

(Who is the lucky person?)

Sandy B. checks the weight chart to see if Nancy has gained or lost since the last recording.

Ethel gives some "pointers" on sewing as Connie observes.

Elma and Sue F. listen to their favorite records.

Remember When. . . . .

Andy did a complete "prep" without a razor blade?

Pat received a call the day of her wedding?

Sandy B. washed her beloved gold fish down the drain –
(were the plumbers called Sandy?)

Janice went to bed early the night of the party at Akron Children's Hospital?

Roxie thought Mr. Zucker was Dr. Hensel?

Linda E. tried to get a refund on her banana boat?

Sue wasn't eating or reading?

Cheryl went for her BMR? (Did they ever find you?)

Rosie humming in surgery? Remember that is reserved only for doctors!

Sandy H. made her debut at the swimming meet?

Nancy didn't know how to use the bed pan hopper and ended up changing her uniform?

Viv went through "Be nice to Vivian day?"

Connie had to talk to Dr. "C"?

Elma fell with a pan of instruments in surgery?

Linda M. took an unexpected plane ride?

Ethel scrubbed for Dr. "F" (By the way what did you do with that pan?)

Donna missed Well's Fargo?

Nannette did research on the art and science of washing walls?

Joyce wasn't with Bill?

Rochelle gave chicken pox to her daughter?

Marcia got ready for unexpected guests?

Sue W. went to the horse races – (Did you ever find the starting gates Sue?)

Linda Y. took long walks through Sippo Park?
(What ever happened to the paper bag?)

Marge pants fell down during the first class meeting?

Willie tried to pull a patient up hill on a Davis roller?

Maxine chewed up her ear plugs?

Ready to help with a selection is Shirley Greenfelder.

Corridor

A welcome sight on a warm summer's day is Wilma Klein and Margery Little.

Keeping those floors shiny is one of the many tasks of Roland Ware.

Always ready with a cheerful smile is Christine Royer.

Mrs. Paul Krantz and Mrs. Rodney Brunker are two of the many appreciated volunteer workers.

Candids

Paul Stoner, a neat and dependable worker.

A smile and a helping hand are trademarks of Edna Smith and Mary Rodocaj.

"Now that's a cool enema!"

"You've got a cold?"

"Whistle me up a memory!"

"Holy Mackeral Andy!"

"Careful, don't drop me!"

"Watch that sterile needle!"

And in this corner we have . . . . ??

Straight from Hawaii!!

"Isn't that pretty!"

"Oh, Jane, this hurts"

Future homemakers??

"Who took my anatomy book?"

"Now don't take it all!"

candid snaps

"Where's mine, Santa?"

"Just put a tuck in here."

"Somebody's sleeping in my bed."

"But I don't want to go to bed!"

"Say, I like this crazy dance!"

"Watch out with that bag of feathers!"

"Mr. Sandman, send me a dream!"

"Straight from witchville!"

"Not much left!"

"Look at all the spots you've missed!"

We honor our mothers.

"So this is nursing??"
